Firmin Faure, anti-Semite, urged the necessty of strength-ening the defenses of the colonies and the colonial army, in addition to a sys-tem of French-owned cables. He pointed out that while Mr. Chamberlain's Lelcester speech was perhaps only his personal view, the fact that a British personal view, the fact that a pittin minister had indulged in such language towards France was sufficiently grave cause for consideration by the chamber, and, he added, it was high time to take notice of Mr. Chamberlain's warning.
